FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 19, 1868.

SENATE.

The Chair submitted a communication from the cigar makers of Columbus, Ohio, praying for a modification of tax. Referred.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from Committee on Judiciary, reported adversely on the bill for the more efficient government of the rebel States, with amendments. Also a bill on the same subject. He said they were rendered unnecessary by the recent amendment reported by the Committee to the supplementary reconstruction bill, providing that a majority of the votes cast shall decide elections.

Also, reported adversely the bill to regulate service by the Court of Equity.

Mr. FESSENDEN reported a bill to enlarge the Capitol grounds.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to reimburse soldiers for clothing destroyed on account of contagion.

Mr. WILSON introduced a joint resolution to restore Alabama to representation in Congress.

WHEREAS, By act of March 23d, 1867, entitled "an act supplementary to an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2d, 1867, and to facilitate restoration, it is provided that in the election for the ratification of the Constitution of each of the rebel States the electors of the State should have an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or influence of fraud;

AND WHEREAS, In the election for the ratification of the Constitution of Alabama, electors, owing to their dismissal from employment, and hostile and menacing actions of combinations of persons, had not an opportunity to vote freely and without fear or influence of fraud;

AND WHEREAS, Congress is satisfied that the Constitution of Alabama meets the approval of a majority of the qualified voters of the State; therefore,

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, &c., that the Constitution of Alabama is hereby declared to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to provide for the more efficient government of rebel states, passed March 2d, 1867, and the said Constitution is hereby approved, and whenever the Legislature elected under said Constitution shall ratify the fourteenth article of the Constitution of the United States, proposed by the thirty-ninth Congress, said state shall be admitted to representation in Congress in accordance with the laws of the United States.

Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. WILSON stated he would call it up at an early day, when he would make a statement of the outrages perpetrated in that State in violation of the right to vote without fear or restraint.

Mr. MORTON introduced a bill to remove the disabilities of Gov. Holden, of North Carolina. Referred.

Mr. HENDRICKS introduced a bill to amend the act for recording conveyances of vessels and other purposes. Referred.

Mr. TIPTON introduced a bill to grant aid to a railroad from Brownsville, Nebraska, and to other railroads in that State that are to intersect the Union Pacific Railroad. Referred.

Considerable discussion was elicited on the general subject of aid to railroads by the bill extending the time for the completion of the Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad, called up by Mr. HARLAN, which was amended and passed.

Mr. WILSON moved to take up the bill relative to officers dismissed from the United Stated army by general court martial.

Mr. HENDRICKS opposed the motion, urging the continuation of the unfinished business, namely: The resolution providing for the admission of Mr. Thomas as Senator from Maryland.

Mr. WILSON'S motion was lost on division, and the Senate took up the special order.

Mr. HOWARD addressed the Senate, in reply to the remarks of Mr. TRUMBULL yesterday.

After further debate Mr. SUMNER withdrew his amendment, that Mr. Thomas was not entitled to take the test oath or to a seat.

Mr. CONKLING offered one similar in effect.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. LAWRENCE, Ohio, from Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to establish a Law Department, which was ordered to be printed and recommitted.

Mr. WILSON, Iowa, from same Committee, reported back the bill providing for the surrender of persons convicted of certain crimes, and asked it to be put upon passage. The bill as amended by the Committee provides that no person who may have been duly arrested, tried, convicted and adjudged guilty of murder, piracy, assassination, arson, robbery, or forgery, and when conviction has not been reversed, shall be allowed to enter or remain in the United States, and authorizes the President, on production of satisfactory proof, that any such person who has entered or is about to enter the United States, to return or cause to be returned such convict to the country from which he comes or in which he may have been so convicted.

Mr. JUDD asked Mr. Wilson whether the bill would exclude a person convicted of any such crimes and subsequently pardoned by his government?

Mr. WILSON answered in the negative.

Mr. JUDD asked whether it would apply to a person who, after having paid the full penalty inflicted, as imprisonment for twenty years, and afterwards came to this country?

Mr. WILSON said it certainly could could not be so construed.

The bill passed without division.

The House proceeded to dispose of the amendments, fifty-nine in number, reported from Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union to the Legislative, &c., Appropriation bill.

Mr. WASHBURNE, acting chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, withdrew the amendment pending on adjournment of the House yesterday.

The first question on which the yeas and nays were called was an amendment adding twenty per cent. to appropriations for the employes of each House.

Mr. WASHBURNE opposed it.

Its supporters contending it only carries out an existing law which makes the increase permanent, the amendment was adopted—eighty-eight to forty-five.

The next question taken by yeas and nays was on amendment in reference to the Court of Claims, providing that no judgment of that Court exceeding five thousand dollars shall be paid out of the appropriation. Agreed to—yeas seventy-two, nays sixty-four.

The amendments cutting down the clerical force at the Executive Mansion, and forbidding officers of the army and navy being employed there on civil duty, were, at the suggestion of Mr. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, rejected.

All the amendments having been disposed of, the bill passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union. Mr. WASHBURNE, of Wisconsin, in the Chair, on the army appropriation bill. The bill appropriates in the aggregate $33,082,093. The following are the principal appropriations: Pay of army, fifteen millions, commutation of officers subsistence, $2,133,423; Medical and hospital Department, $200,000; Quartermasters Department, regular supplies, five millions; Quartermaster General and incidental expenses, two millions; Transportation of army, five million; Ordnance service, $200,000; quarters for officers and troops, two millions; Arsenal and armory at Rock Island, Ills., $330,000; Repairs of $200,000.

After some debate Mr. PILE made a point of order that the proviso attached to the item for pay of the army should not be attached to a provision for the reduction of the army.

Mr. BLAINE consented that the proviso should be struck out at that point, and then moved that it be inserted at the end of the bill. The proviso as modified is as follows: "Provided, the expenditure of money herein appropriated shall be limited and controlled by the following condition until otherwise ordered by law: no new commission shall be issued in any regiment except to those who are by law entitled to appointment as Second Lieutenants by graduation at the United States Military Academy, but this provision shall not be construed to deprive any officer of whatever promotion may be opened to him by the occurrence of vacancies."

Mr. PILE made the point of order that this was independent legislation, and, therefore, not in order in an appropriation bill.

The CHAIR overruled the point.

The proviso gave rise to considerable discussion, Messrs. LOGAN, PILE and WASHBURNE, of Ind., opposing it on the ground of its favoritism to West Point Cadets, and Mr. SCHENCK opposed it as being an attempt to legislate generally in an appropriation bill, which he considered wrong.

Mr. BLAINE asked Mr. Schenck whether he was in favor of maintaining the army at its present strength, until matters were settled, which did not seem very likely to be settled for a year or two. He believed there was a general disposition, as soon as the condition of the country would admit of it, to resort to some system of reduction of the army, but what he objected to was a piece of reform, which he referred to, and which would render something else necessary hereafter, to be thrust into an appropriation bill. The question should be left to the Appropriation Committee.

On a vote by tellers the amendment was agreed to—fifty-four to forty-three.

During the further discussion Mr. PILE asked Mr. Blaine whether the proviso which he had offered was favored by General Grant, remarking he did not accord with the General's views as submitted to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. BLAINE replied he had this morning submitted to General Grant the proviso in the printed bill, but he objected to specifying the number of regiments to which the army shall be reduced, and he (Mr. Blaine) had then and there written, according to General Grant's dictation, which the Committee had adopted.

Mr. LOGAN took exception to an insinuation by Mr. Blaine as to the jealousy of West Point, and said he had been educated to fight tricks whenever he met them, and he saw a trick attempted to be passed off on the House, as had been done to-day. He justified himself in his remarks without asking any gentleman to be his censor. He had no prejudice against West Point, but protested that neither West Point, nor East Point, nor South Point, nor North Point, nor Main Point, should introduce a trick in Legislation. He was as good a friend as Gen. Grant had and he wanted the couriers of West Point to quit insinuating against him that he was attacking Gen. Grant.

Mr. BLAINE said, in reference to the expression about tricks in legislation, that the proviso, which was in the bill originally, had been reported by the Committee on Appropriations, and a direct, explicit, double leaded, plain printed proviso. The gentleman from Illinois had gone off in a good deal of temper about something.

Mr. LOGAN hoped Mr. Blaine would withdraw the word "temper." (Laughter.)

Mr. BLAINE repeated the words "a good deal of temper," and denied having charged Mr. Logan with jealousy of West Point. He simply said, while he had no prejudice against West Point, he had no jealousy of it. The gentleman could not, if he tried with ever so much temper, get him in a quarrel here.

(Mr. Logan kissed his hand to Mr. Blaine amid much laughter.)

Mr. BUTLER, as one of the members of the Committee on Appropriations, said he did not wish to be made responsible for the proviso, for it never had been communicated to him. He wished to wash his hands of it, and say the country had fallen on evil times when the army was to be cut up or cut down at the request or under direction of any officers of the United States. The army had been put in the hands of the representatives of the people, and the last man who ought to influence those representatives as to the strength of the army was the General of the Army. Civil and military powers should be kept distinct. He trusted he might say so much without any imputation of bad taste or bad faith toward any one. Such a precedent was one in which the future might prove fatal to the liberties of the country. The fathers of the Republic had been careful to guard against it by allowing nobody, except the President of the United States, to give advice or instructions to Congress.

Mr. BLAINE expressed the hope it would never be considered derogatory to the character of the first officer of the army to recommend a reduction of military forces.

Mr. BUTLER asked where in the Constitution any right of the General of the Army could be found to recommend anything to Congress?

Mr. BLAINE said he was not speaking about the Constitution. If the General were recommending an increase of the military force, there might be some grounds for jealousy and sensitiveness, but when he recommended a reduction, he could see no cause for alarm.

Mr. PILE, in reference to Mr. Butler's remarks about the bad taste in using Gen. Grant's name in the discussion, said the violation of good taste had been on the part of the gentleman himself.

Mr. BUTLER invited Mr. Pile to state exactly what Gen. Grant did recommend to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. PILE declined.

Finally the discussion closed and the Committee proceeded with other portions of the bill.

The item appropriating $280,000 for an arsenal and armory at Rock Island, gave rise to discussion. It was agreed to.

Mr. VAN WYCK moved to amend by adding the following proviso: "Provided, no money appropriated by this act shall be used to pay for any new cannon or small arms." Adopted.

Without disposing of the bill the Committee rose.

The SPEAKER presented a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury, relative to the transfer to the Interior Department of jurisdiction over certain Indian matters now exercised by the Treasury Department. Referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Also, a message from the President, with a report of the Attorney General as to pardons granted to persons convicted of making or passing counterfeit money. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Also, a message from the President, with correspondence and information in relation to Russian America. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. BLAINE asked leave to offer a resolution requesting the President to communicate all the correspondence in reference to conferring on Lieut. General Sherman the brevet rank of General, and the correspondence in relation to the establishment of a new military division.

Mr. NIBLACK objected, but subsequently withdrew the objection, and the resolution was offered and adopted.

Mr. LOGAN introduced an act revoking the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to pay per centage for the sale of Government securities or bonds, and repealing all laws authorizing the appointment of agents for the purpose of negotiating or selling Government securities or bonds. Referred to Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. BROOMALL, from the Committee on Accounts, to whom had been referred certain charges against Mr. Ordway, Sergeant-at-Arms, presented a report signed by four or five members of the Committee, ending with a resolution that the Committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject. He stated Mr. McCulloch disagreed to the report and might present a minority report.

The case creates much feeling among the Jews, who regard it as involving rights and principles similar to those violated in the Mortara affair in Rome, and who represent that the outrage is an insult to Prussia.

Baron Von Der Heydt, the Finance Minister, replied that the German Consul at Jerusalem was a Federal not a Prussian representative, and consequently the application for information must be made to the Chancellor of the North German Confederation.

COURT MARTIAL SENTENCES.

The naval court martial sentenced Captain Collins to suspension from rank and duty for three years, receiving the pay of a Captain on the retired list, and to be publicly reprimanded, for the loss of the steamer Sacramento. Lieutenant commander Bache, navigating officer of the Sacramento, received a similar sentence of one instead of three years. Both have been approved by the Secretary of the Navy and issued in a general order.

EXPATRIATION QUESTION — ANOTHER BILL.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs to-day agreed upon the following bill, as a substitute for the one heretofore reported by them. General Banks, Chairman of the Committee, will report it at the earliest opportunity:

WHEREAS, The right of expatriation is a natural and inherent right of all people, indispensable to the enjoyment of the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, for the protection of which the government of the United States was established;

AND WHEREAS, In the recognition of this principle this Government has freely received emigrants from all nations and invested them with the rights of citizenship;

AND WHEREAS, It is claimed that all such American citizens with their descendants are subjects of foreign States, owing allegiance to the governments thereof;

AND WHEREAS, It is necessary to the maintenance of the public peace that this claim of foreign allegiance should be promptly and finally disavowed; therefore

Be it enacted, &c., that any declaration, instruction, opinion, order, or decision of any officers of this government, which denies, restricts, impairs, or questions the right of expatriation, is hereby declared inconsistent with the fundamental principles of the government, and therefore null and void.

SEC. 2. That all naturalized citizens of the United States in foreign States shall be entitled and receive from this Government the same protection of persons and property accorded to native born citizens in like situation.

SEC. 3. That whenever it shall be duly made known to the President that any citizen of the United States has been arrested and is detained by any foreign government in contravention of the intent and purpose of this act, upon the allegation that naturalization in the United States does not operate to dissolve his allegiance to his native sovereign, or if any citizen shall have been arrested and detained, whose release upon demand shall have been unreasonably delayed or refused, the President shall be and hereby is empowered to order, arrest and detain in custody any subject or citizen of such foreign government who may be found within the jurisdiction of the United States, and the President shall without delay give information to Congress of any such proceeding under this act.

RESPONSE FROM A. J.

The following is the response of President Johnson to the Committee from Baltimore, who presented him the resolutions of the municipal Council of that city, endorsing his political course and earnestly inviting him to visit that city: "I am profoundly thankful for this expression of approval by the Council of the city of Baltimore of my official conduct as Chief Executive of this nation. This manifestation of confidence from the citizens of Baltimore at this time is peculiarly acceptable and gratifying. Our country is now in the midst of grave perils, and our free institutions are more endangered than when during the rebellion our armies were struggling for the Republic in the field. In this critical condition of public affairs it behooves every citizen, who feels an interest in the preservation of constitutional liberty, to consider that our's is a government of law, and to require of our legislatures that when a great measure is proposed the first inquiry shall be, does it conform to the Constitution, which they have solemnly sworn to support. It would be the greatest of victories if the public mind, carried back within the pale of the Constitution, would demand that all legislation should be strictly tested by the organic law. The idea that the Constitution no longer exists, or that although existing, laws must be made outside of its provisions, must ultimately lead to despotism and tyranny. If the Judicial and Executive branches are to be broken down, and the government resolved into and placed under the control of the Legislative department; if the rights and interests and destinies of this great country are to be transferred to the hands of a few, whose will is to be the measure of their power, our republican institutions will soon yield to the most absolute despotism ever witnessed by the world. The struggle in which I have been compelled to engage has not been for my own aggrandizement. My sole aim has been to bring back the government to the plain principles of the Constitution. If I could accomplish that object, the measure of my ambition would indeed be filled to overflowing. That great end achieved, it would be the highest pleasure of my life, making my reverence to the people, and giving my thanks to heaven, to yield my aspirations to others. I repeat that the encouragement given me on this occasion is very acceptable. The stoutest heart, when surrounded by doubts and menaced by perils, needs countenance and support. The kind expressions of approval of the City Council of Baltimore, sincerely appreciated, will be remembered with gratitude as long as life shall last."

MEMBER FROM ALABAMA.

Mr. Norris, Chairman of the Republican State Committee of Alabama, and member elect of the House, arrived here and was on the floor to-day. He says many registered voters were intimidated from going to the polls, and the admission of Alabama is imperatively demanded as necessary for the protection of people and the preservation of material interests.

SOUTHERN STATES.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Feb. 19.—The Supreme Court to-day decided the stay law unconstitutional and void as regards deeds of trust, which was the only question in the cause.

The Convention to-day commenced the consideration of the Franchise Committee's report, the first section, declaring that every male citizen aged twenty-one years, etc., shall vote, being under discussion.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Feb. 19.—In the Convention a resolution instructing the next Legislature to enact such laws as will compel all common carriers to provide accommodations for all persons without discrimination, was tabled—yeas sixty-five; nays sixty. A resolution to prohibit the Legislature from enacting such law was badly defeated.

The Commanding General was requested by a resolution to protect the people from oppression of bail processes until they have expressed their will in regard to the constitution.

An affair of honor between Dr. Westmoreland and Mr. Powers, of Atlanta, was cut short yesterday by the arrest of the former.

NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, February 19.—The Convention yesterday and to-day adopted the Bill of Rights. It embodies some new features.

The majority report of the Committee on Suffrage, with two minority appendages, has been the subject of discussion yesterday and to-day. The majority report is liberal, extending suffrage to all males of twenty-one years of age and upwards. The minority reports insist upon disfranchising whites to some extent.

Several applications for divorce were considered, against the remonstrances of the President and others, but not determined.

A strong movement is being inaugurated to reconsider the section of the bill of rights declaring the validity of the public debt.

FLORIDA.

TALLAHASSE, Feb. 19.—The Convention to-day, by a vote of twenty-five to fifteen, declared Messrs. Billings, Saunders, Pearce and Richardson ineligible and their seats vacant. Mr. Billings, by permission, defended his claim to eligibility in a violent speech. The excitement ran very high, and Billings declared his ability to control the negro vote. The lobby was crowded with white and colored auditors who manifested little interest for the overthrow of the delegates. The minority report, defending the eligibility of the members in question, was presented but not adopted.

The Convention adjourned after the third reading of the question of eligibility.

After adjournment, a colored delegate was attacked by outside negro supporters of the Billings party, and struck for voting against the expelled member. One of the assaulting party was snot through the hip by a delegate, when the difficulty was stopped and the parties arrested by the police.

Gen. Meade and staff left for Atlanta this morning, and it is now probable that the work for which the Convention was called will be consummated.

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, Feb. 19.—After adopting the new and modified tax ordinance, and ordering that two delegates be appointed to present the same to General Gillem, the Convention adjourned to allow the use of the hall to the Democratic State Convention.

The latter body is largely attended, most of the counties being represented.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19.—In the Convention to-day a resolution that when the Convention adjourns it does not adjourn sine die, but subject to the call of the President, was laid over. The financial question was discussed a couple hours and a preamble to the Constitution adopted, when the Convention adjourned.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, February 19.—The Convention thus far has adopted eighty sections of the new Constitution. It is thought it may conclude the work and adjourn within two weeks.

VARIOUS TELEGRAMS.

—Father Hennessy, a Catholic priest, was brought into the police court of St. Louis yesterday, to testify in a case, but refused to be sworn, on the ground that he was a foreigner, belonging to the French Legation at Washington, and denied the authority of the court to require his attendance in any capacity, except as violator of a city or state law. It was finally agreed between the counsel in the case that Hennessy should testify without taking an oath.

A Challenge—A Plain Case.

I pay one dollar if I fail to stop any physical pain within five minutes. I do it free of charge, and am constantly relieving thousands who have been given up as hopeless. Then why pay dollar after dollar to doctors who charge you roundly, and yet you suffer pain. I care not what ails you; all I ask, if you have pain, stop at No. 170 Chatham square, New York, or 622 Arch street, Philadelphia, and be relieved without harm or expense. If you cannot come you can buy Wolcott's Pain Paint (a new remedy) at druggists', at 25 cents. It will do the work astonishingly quick. Now a word about something that is very annoying, very disgusting, yet very common, and not one doctor in twenty knows anything about it. It is a disease called Catarrh; one third of the people are victims; it commences in the head and ends at the lungs in consumption; the symptoms are hawking and spitting, phlegm dropping into the throat, head heavy and dull, eyes weak, throat sore, nostrils running thin mucus or inflamed, voice often changed, loss of smell, deafness or noises in the head, and a constant succession of colds in the head, are plain indications. Some have all of these symptoms; others only very few of them; yet they have Catarrh badly. Just use a dollar bottle of Wolcott's instant Pain Annihilator for this complaint, but be careful and buy none unless in pure white outside wrappers; small, 25 cents; full pints, $1.

R. L. WOLCOTT, Proprietor,
No. 170 Chatham square, N. Y.

We advise our readers to cut this out and avail themselves of the above offer when suffering pain.

We have received from Messrs. Barr, Knake & Buettler, of St. Clair street, several new and pleasing pieces of music, viz: "Caprice Militair," by Meninger; "Wanderer's Night Song," by Otto Behr; "There is joy in the heart when the loved one is nigh," by Mrs. S. L. Slack, and a pretty ballad for the guitar by Meninger, called "Gift of night and dew," all of which can be had at the store of the above musical gentlemen.

We have received from W. A. Gildenfenny, No 45 Fifth street, The Lady's Friend, which, as usual, is what it professes to be, a collection of things interesting in fashion and literature. Also, the March number of Putnam's Magazine, which is still an improvement on the former numbers. There are at least three articles worth reading in this number, a thing which can rarely be said of magazines now a days.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Crawford County System Discussed in the Union Republican Executive Committee—It is Referred to the Voters.

A meeting of the Union Republican Executive Committee was held yesterday afternoon at the office of C. C. Taylor, Esq., on Grant street. In the absence of J. H. Miller, Esq., Col. T. M. Bayne was chosen President. After the minutes were read, General Pearson, Chairman of the Sub-Committee appointed at the last meeting in reference to the propriety of adopting the Crawford county system, reported that he had corresponded with several gentlemen on the subject, and presented to the Committee the following letter.

MEADVILLE, Feb. 12, 1868.

DEAR SIR: Please receive, herewith, a copy of the rules for making nominations in this county. Experience has shown them not to be free from abuse, but the workings of this system, under them, has been a decided improvement over the preceding one—of having delegates to make nominations. The abuse has been found in the allowance of persons to vote who were not in sympathy with the party. When this can be guarded against, this system is preferable to all others. A later amendment excludes from voting all who do not promise to support the ticket at the ensuing election and allows persons arriving at age between the primary and fall elections to vote at the former.

Very respectfully,
DAVID DERICSON.
Gen. A. L. Pearson.

General Pearson then presented the following report of the system as it is now working in Crawford County:

First. The candidates for the several offices shall have their names announced in one or more of the county papers at least three weeks previous to the primary meetings, stating the office, and subject to the action of the party at the said primary meeting.

Second. The voters responding to Republican principles in each town, ward or borough shall meet on the 30th day of August, at the usual place of holding the Spring elections, at 2 o'clock p. m., and proceed to elect one person for Judge and two persons for clerks, who shall form a Board of Election to receive votes and determine who are proper persons to vote and shall hold the polls open until 6 p. m. After the polls are opened, the candidates announced as aforesaid shall be ballotted for, the names of each person voting shall be written on a list at the time of voting, no person being allowed to vote more than once for each office.

Third. After the polls are closed the board shall proceed to count the votes that each candidate has received, and make out the returns accordingly, to be certified to by the Judge and attested by the clerks.

Fourth. The Judge (or one of the clerks appointed by the Judge) of the respective election district, shall meet at the Court House, in Meadville, on Tuesday following the primary meetings, at one o'clock, P. M., having the returns and a list of the voters, and count the votes, and the person having the highest number of votes for any office shall be declared the regular nominee of the Republican party.

Fifth. Any two or more persons having an equal number of votes for the same office, the Judges shall proceed to ballot for a choice, the person having the highest number to be the nominee.

Sixth. The Return Judges shall be competent to reject, by a majority, the returns from any election district, where there is evidence of fraud, either in the returns, or otherwise, to the extent of the frauds committed.

Seventh. The Return Judges shall have power to appoint Conferees—Senatorial and Congressional—as may be hereafter required, who shall be recommended to support the person who may receive the largest number of votes cast for that office in this county.

Resolved, That the aforesaid Return Judges may at any time change the mode and manner of selecting candidates as they may be instructed by the people at their primary meeting, due notice being given them by the County Committee.

Resolved, That the chairman of the County Committee be required to issue a call in pursuance of this action of the Committee.

The following resolutions were then adopted by the Committee:

Resolved, 1. That the matter of making nominations hereafter by the Republican party be referred to the primary meetings on the 29th of February; said primary meetings to instruct their delegates in what manner the future nominations shall be made—whether by popular vote or by electing delegates.

2. That this Committee recommend to the Republican voters of each district that they instruct their delegates to the March Convention as to whether the nominations shall hereafter be made by popular vote or by the delegate system.

On motion, this Committee recommend the re-adoption of the district system in making nominations for members of the Senate and House of Representatives.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the President.

Another Man Missing—Foul Play Suspected.

Mysterious disappearances are occurring so frequently of late, as to demand some measure on the part of the authorities to investigate the matter, and it, as there is every reason to believe, "foul play" has been resorted to in any of the recent cases reported, to bring the offenders to punishment. Several weeks have elapsed since the disappearance of Mr. Freyvogle, yet not the slightest clue to his whereabouts has been obtained. A week or two later a Mr. Merritt left his home in this city, since when nothing has been heard of him, and Saturday evening last a citizen of the Second ward, Allegheny, left his home in perfect health, expecting to be absent but a few hours, but has not yet returned, nor can his family learn aught of his whereabouts. The last case referred to is that of Mr. Robert Kincaid, a blacksmith, formerly employed at Mr. Hunter's blacksmith shop, at the corner of Beaver street and Gay alley, Allegheny. Shortly after supper Saturday evening Mr. Kincaid left his home, telling his wife he would return between ten and eleven o'clock. He had when he left home between eighty and one hundred dollars in his possession. The only information in regard to him after leaving home is derived from a Mr. Cook, who states that he met Kincaid on Federal street, Allegheny, and proceeded with him to Penn street, Pittsburgh, where they parted, Kincaid saying he was going to Temperanceville, to purchase a blacksmith shop, and that he had eighty dollars in his pocket to pay for it.

There can be no cause assigned for his disappearance, other than "foul play," as his domestic relations are said to have been of the most pleasant character, and he was a strictly temperate man.

Diligent search has been made by the family and his friends, but nothing has been heard of him other than what we have stated. The matter is worthy of investigation.

Attempted Swindle.

On Tuesday evening Richard Bay, a colored man, formerly of Winchester, Va., who has for some months past been residing at Mansfield, in this county, came to Union Depot and inquired for the Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, stating that he wished to make an arrangement with him for bringing his family from Winchester to this city. He was accosted by a well dressed man, who stated that he was Superintendent of the road, and inquired of the negro how much money he had. After learning that he had but fifty dollars, he told him that if he would give him the fifty dollars and his note for fifty more, he would give him transportation for himself and family from Winchester. The negro agreed to do it, but not having his money with him, made arrangements to meet him at the depot at seven o'clock the next morning. After leaving the depot he by some means met officer Hague, who, suspecting the negro was being victimized, agreed to go with him in the morning at the appointed time, but by some means was delayed and did not get to the depot until nine o'clock, when he arrived in company with the negro, but the self-constituted Superintendent had fled, or at least was not to be found about the premises. Such proceedings are not unusual, and strangers should be extremely cautious to whom they pay money for railroad tickets.

Mercantile Library Lecture.—This evening our citizens will have the opportunity, for the only time this season, of hearing the eminent American scholar and writer, Dr. Edward L. Youmans, deliver his celebrated and brilliantly illustrated lecture on the "Chemistry of the Sunbeams." He delivered this lecture in Philadelphia a short time since to overflowing houses. We expect to see the Academy of Music crowded to-night to greet this distinguished lecturer.

THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD.

Meeting at Bollers' Hall—James Gibbons, Vice President of the Fenian Brotherhood, and Col. P. F. Walsh Addresses the Meeting.

Pursuant to a published call a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Fenian Brotherhood was held at Bollers' Hall yesterday evening. The meeting was called to order by Mr. P. Graham, on whose motion the following officers were elected:

President—Dr. E. Donnelly.

Vice Presidents—Mayor Blackmore, Ex-Mayor Lowrey, Capt. Miller and Alexander Allender.

Secretaries—M. M'Aleer and the reporters of the Press.

Dr. Donnelly, upon taking the chair, stated the object of the meeting to be for the purpose of hearing addresses from two of the most prominent men in the order, whose object was to raise men and money for the cause. He then introduced James Gibbon, Vice President of the Fenian Brotherhood.

Mr. Gibbon was pleased to meet so many of his countrymen. He always felt as though he was coming home when he came to Pittsburgh. He had been travelling in the interest of the Brotherhood for two years past, during which time he had visited all the principal cities in the United States, and a great many of the smaller ones, and he was pleased to say that he found a general enthusiasm in the cause throughout the land, and the Irish national camp fires were burning brightly all over the nation. The perseverance of true Irishmen he said had worked a change in the condition of affairs during the last two years. The British Government, which but a short time since was boasting of her prowess, now found herself in a dilemma from which she would find it difficult to extricate herself. The matter was puzzling the wise heads of the nation. Irishmen in America were imbued with the spirit of American liberty, and throughout the land were preparing for the coming contest. It was the Irish nation in America united with the Irish nation at home that England had to fear. It now costs England one million per day to watch the Fenians and it did not cost the Fenians anything to keep them watching; so it was only a question of time, and the side that could hold out the longest would win in the end. England had but one religion, he said, and that was the Golden Calf. She would rob the world, as she had done Ireland, to fill hers coffers with gold, and the heavy drain upon her treasury was a severe blow. She was now considering plans upon which the Irish difficulties may be settled, but Irishmen would be satisfied with nothing less than an Irish Republic, founded on the principles of the American government. Ireland has never yet bowed before royalty, and never will. The time he said was approaching when a decisive blow would be struck, and all true Irishmen should be ready for the contest. He urged them to organize in civil circles and form military companies. The spirit of American liberty was enlisted in favor of the Irish nation, and England knows that the first crack of an American rifle in the cause of Ireland would be the "crack of doom" to the British empire, and announce the birth of an Irish Republic. After some further remarks, in which he urged the necessity of a unity of action and organization, the speaker closed.

Dr. Donnelly, in a few complimentary remarks, then introduced Col. P. F. Walsh, a distinguished member of the Fenian Brotherhood, who entertained the meeting for over an hour with a very able and eloquent address, which was highly applauded by his hearers. His remarks were forcibly argumentative, and calculated to inspire a spirit of patriotism in the breast of every Irishman who retained a single spark of that element. We regret that a want of space prevents us from publishing even a synopsis of them.

At the conclusion of Col. Walsh's remarks Dr. Donnelly proposed three cheers for the distinguished speakers who had so ably addressed the meeting and for the cause of Ireland, which were responded to in true Irish style.

Col. Walsh, after thanking the meeting for the cheers, said that cheers were very good in their place, but the cause was in need of something more substantial. He wanted recruits for the "Army of the Irish Republic," and hoped every man who had raised his voice in the cheers that had just been given, who was not already enrolled, would remain and enroll himself in the noble army. His appeal was responded to by fifty-four men.

The meeting then adjourned.

Coal Thieves.

For several months past it has been obvious to coal dealers on the Allegheny Valley road that they were supplying a large number of customers with coal with whom they had no account, and for which they received no pay. A short time since a car load was left standing on the track on Pike street over night, and when taken to Allegheny the next day, and measured, it fell short over fifteen bushels. This was a heavier tax than the dealers felt like paying at the present short profits they have on the article, and they resolved to find out who the depredators were and bring them to justice. Tuesday evening Armstrong & Dickson, coal dealers, run a number of cars loaded with coal into the city and, as usual, allowed them to remain on the siding on Pike street over night, but took the precaution to leave a number of men to watch and if possible ascertain where the coal went to. They took their station early in the evening, and it appears had not long to wait, as shortly after dark they observed several persons helping themselves to the article. The mystery as to where the coal had gone now being solved, it only remained to bring the parties to an account for the liberties they had been taking with their neighbors' property, and yesterday morning Mr. Joseph C. Dickson, of the firm of Armstrong & Dickson, made information before Alderman Taylor, against James Long; Boyd Rook against Peter Sands; James Bell against Thomas P. Wright and Mary Mahoney; Charles Hains against Patrick Connell, and Joseph Thomas against John Hastings, charging them with stealing coal. Warrants were issued and the parties arrested and held for a hearing.

These depredations we learn have been under way for the last six months, and the firm of Armstrong & Dickson say that they have lost over five hundred bushels of coal within that time. There are said to be several other parties in that neighborhood who procure their coal in this manner, and we learn that it is the intention of the dealers to bring all to justice hereafter caught at it.

Rare Opportunity.

Elsewhere we publish the announcement, offering for sale the well known and extensive establishment of Mr. Arthur Kirk, Nos. 172 and 174 Federal street, Allegheny. This house monopolizes a very large share of trade in groceries, glassware, queensware, chandeliers, oil fixtures, &c., and is justly regarded as one of the best business stands in the State. Mr. Kirk, the proprietor, is anxious to concentrate his entire attention to the powder trade, into which he has extensively embarked, and hence his offer to sell his popular establishment. To capitalists this is a rare chance for entering into a prosperous and paying business.

Oyster Supper.

There will be held an Oyster Supper this and to-morrow evenings, for the benefit of the "Church Home," at the Sunday School room of Trinity church. Lucheon will be served each day. The arrangements have been made on a liberal scale, and we trust our readers will avail themselves of the opportunity to contribute to a worthy object, and at the same time have full enjoyment for their money.

A Wonderful Recovery—Sore Eye Cured.

Mr. Lafferty, a gentleman connected with the Malt House, on Liberty street, applied to Dr. Aborn, of 134 Smithfield street, seven days ago, with a painful disease of the eye, with loss of the sight. Within the short space of one week the Doctor has cured the disease and restored his sight. All persons with chronic diseases of the eye should apply to the Doctor with confidence.

Dealers who buy to sell again will find at Joseph Horne & Co.'s wholesale and retail trimming and notion house, Nos. 77 and 79 Market street, a fresh and superior stock of trimmings, notions, hosiery and millinery goods at prices much less than those prevailing in the eastern cities. There is no charge for showing goods, and our friends are invited to call in and satisfy themselves of the truth of the advertisement.

Guilty.—The trial of Samuel Hull, indicted for the murder of Chas. H. Parker, was concluded Tuesday, at Greensburg. The jury rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree.

Silks.—For street, carriage and evening dresses, at Barker's.

FOURTH PAGE.—The Courts; Real Estate Transfers, and other Local Items of interest.

CITY ITEMS.

The Powers of Man's Body and Mind.

These are measurably controlled and exercised according to the state of health or action of the various organs by which they are executed. A sound mind, therefore, can scarcely exist, or at any rate would be of but little use, if it had not a sound body to execute its purposes. Cicero himself would have been a poor orator if his powers had been exerted through an enfeebled and exhausted constitution. Each function of the human body must have a sound organ through which to act, or it will soon, part by part, give way and become useless. High health and vigorous action can be alone maintained by an an equilibrium of the whole organism.

The stomach must prepare and digest the food; the heart must propel the blood to its various destinations; the lungs must receive their due proportion of vital air; the skin must be kept free, and its exhalations allowed to pass off unrestrained; the kidneys must eliminate the vitiated and useless fluids of the body; the bowels must carry out the worn out waste; and if all these things are done in harmony with the natural laws which govern the whole, health, the greatest of all earthly blessings, must be the result. There is no one medicine that will do all this, but of all the medicines yet discovered to improve the stomach, to purify the blood, to gently stimulate the skin, to urge the kidneys and bowels to the requisite action, Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher far outstrips all others. It is the true elixir of life in all those derangements when the blood, the circulating fluid and repairing element, is in a morbid and impure state. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher invigorates the enfeebled stomach. It strengthens the kidneys. It stimulates the bowels. It searches the veins and has restored health and vigor to many weary invalids. Ask for Dr. Keyser's and take no other. For sale at the Doctor's great medicine store 140 Wood street.

Dr. Keyser's Consultation Rooms, No. 120 Penn street, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.

Plumbing and Gas Fitting.

During the recent cold weather the gas and water pipes throughout the city have become generally disarranged, and a vast amount of repairs will be necessary to set them to rights again, and in many instances the work to be done is of such a complicated nature that none but the most experienced workmen will be adequate to the task. In this connection we will take occasion to refer any of our readers having work to do of this character to T. T. Ewens, Plumber and Gas Fitter, No. 166 Wood street. Mr. Ewens employs a corps of competent workmen, and uses in his work none but the very best material, so that all needing work in his line will find it to their advantage to give him a call.

Readers are reminded that no where else in either city are offered better inducements for their patronage than at the well conducted and popular wholesale and retail grocery and produce house of Messrs McBride & George, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny. They carry a large, fresh stock, and to both wholesale and retail patrons offer very superior bargains. Favor this house with a visit and be convinced.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1868.

IT is proposed by the capitalists of Rochester, N. Y., to build a railroad from that city to the coal and lumber districts of Pennsylvania, making connection with the Erie Railway, thence south to the coal fields.

THOUGH the Turks have several times announced the subjugation of the Cretans, that consummation seems further off than it was some months ago. The Greeks have shown much of the fire and tenacity of the ancient stock from which they are descended; and are likely, in the end, to secure a complete triumph over their oppressors.

ST. LOUIS has evinced an enterprise in the way of public improvements during the past few years which has enveloped herself in a debt of $9,908,500. Estimating the population at 240,000 heads, and a valuation of $100,000,000, this will give a ratio of $41.26 per capita, and be 9.91 per cent. on valuation. Quite a respectable burden under which to rest.

LIEUT. GEN. SHERMAN, in common with nearly all the other Generals of the army, is evidently dissatisfied with the assault of the President upon General Grant. He has, however, allowed his sensitiveness to carry him to extremes in threatening to resign if he can in no other way avoid taking command of the new district carved out for him. It may be his resignation, under the circumstances, would suit the President better than his acceptance.

A. T. STEWART, the merchant prince of New York, has entered with much spirit into the campaign for Grant. He has already done much good work for the soldier here. When such men, so largely interested in the finances of the country, lend their time and exertions to the advancement of Grant's claims on the Presidency, weaker capitalists need not hesitate. Mr. Stewart has made a collection of all the journals, and their name is legion, that have expressed a preference for his favorite.

THE New York Councils have set aside $15,000 for the proper observance of the anniversary of Washington's birth-day, on Saturday next, which means a general pyrotechnic display. The Times is pretty severe on the actions stating that that sum of money might better contribute to the relief of the thousands of destitute, and deserving creatures in that city who would be greatly assisted and cheered during these hard and cold times by the gift of half a barrel of flour or half a ton of coal. It would certainly be more of an honor to the Father of his Country than the explosion of a few wretched fire-works.

IN OUR advices from Harrisburg it is stated that the Free Railroad Bill has passed the Senate. This means that when the House bill reached the Senate it was amended by substituting for it the bill that originated in that body. It is now apparent, from the strong majority in the Senate in favor of its own bill, that no other can pass at the present session. Either the House must recede, and take what it can get, or get nothing at all. Under the circumstances, we trust it will recede and accept the Senate bill. Though not all that is desired, it is in the main a very good bill. If it shall become a law, and prove so stringent as to prevent enterprises from growing up under it, the popular demand will force a revision.

IT SEEMS probable that a connection will be made between the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad and the Allegheny Valley Railroad at Turtle Creek, about twelve miles above this city. This will enable trains of the first named road to run directly into business quarters here and easily to effect a junction with the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad. The depots of the Allegheny road and the Fort Wayne road are close together, so that this arrangement will enable the three connecting lines to use one station, and to make a through schedule, liable to as little delay or inconvenience at this point, as is experienced under the most favorable circumstances elsewhere. Indeed, trains, whether for passengers or freight, can run through from Baltimore to Chicago, or any other point west of this city, without the slightest impediment.

GEN. WEITZEL, who was appointed to survey the present canal at Louisville, and also for a new one on the Indiana side, in accordance with a bill passed by Congress last spring, has furnished his report. Mr. EGGLESTON, of the Committee on Commerce, to whom the report will be referred, is said to be in favor of the completion of the present canal, so as to secure free navigation as soon as possible. To do this General WEITZEL estimates the expense at $933,500, provided the same scale of enlargement already began will be carried out.

The amount of bonds of the Company to be assumed by the Government, provided it took possession, he reports at $1,570,000. From this he deducts $200,000, which the Company has on hand, and makes the total cost to Government $2,303,500. He presents three plans for new canals on the Indiana side, at a mean cost of $3,695,000, and recommends the Government to undertake to complete the present enlargement of the old canal, and also to build a new one on the Indiana side. His principal reason for the new one is, that even if the present enlargement on the Kentucky side is completed, the locks will still be too small for the largest sized boats. He estimates that if both are ordered, two million dollars will be needed the first year, if the completion of the old canal alone is agreed upon. There is hardly any doubt but the recommendation for both canals will be favorably acted upon.

NO STATE in the Union is more sadly in need of mineral and agricultural development than West Virginia. Her broad fields and hill sides have been permitted to remain idle for the want of labor, capital and enterprise. Indeed, up till within a few years back the great majority of the inhabitants of the interior districts of that State had developed no energy or talent, and were but a shade higher in the intellectual order of society than the "poor white trash" of the slave States more distant from free ones. The establishment of the public school system, the influx of men of education and capital who sought new fields of operation, have given higher tone to the people and has aroused them into a full sense of their being part and parcel of an enlightened nation. They are gradually lifting themselves out of the bondage of ignorance and indolence, twin followers of slavery, and a new order of things is about to be established.

West Virginia is rich in mineral wealth. Her hills are teeming with rich deposits of iron, lead, coal and copper, and possibly gold, as that precious metal has been found in quantities sufficient to justify the belief that it exists in abundance. Comparatively little capital has been devoted to the development of the oil fields, but in proportion to the amount expended, her regions have proven formidable rivals in richness of yield and superiority of oil to our own great producing petroleum lands. The day is not far distant when lines of railroad now projected will pass through her interior and afford one of the great arteries of trade of the continent. We see in the future of West Virginia a glory hardly dreamed of now, and but few years will roll away before she is permitted to take her place amongst the most prosperous States of the Union.

NATIONAL BANK RESERVES.

In October, 1866, it was developed that some fifty of the National Banks in operation throughout the country had an inadequacy of reserve, and were compelling the sound banking institutions to carry more than was required of them in order to keep general confidence in the system. The Comptroller of the Currency urged that the requirements of the law be complied with by the delinquents, which was that twenty-five per cent. be held in reserve by the banks of cities designated for redemption, and fifteen per cent. by all other banks. There was certainly an effort made in the close of 1866 to act on the recommendation or order of the Comptroller, but the profit and advantages to be realized and obtained by an inadequacy of reserve have led many of the banks into their old ways.

From the report of the Comptroller, embracing the statements of the National Banks at the time attention was directed to the insufficiency of reserves held by the defaulting banks, the reserves amounted to $218,941,476, against liabilities amounting to $886,788,929, or 24 per cent. The January, 1868, report of the same officer, while it does not direct attention to the inadequacy of reserves, presents figures from which it is easily educed that the number of defaulting banks has been largely increasing. At the time of that report the liabilities amounted to $856,674,656; the reserves to $182,394,994, or 21 per cent., against 24 in October, 1866. The report is not as concise regarding this subject as its importance to the general community seems to warrant, and he who would know of the increase or decrease of reserves must wade through a sea of figures, and in the end hardly arrive at any definite conclusion. It has been suggested that the Comptroller should, in the future, add to his list of questions sent at stated times to the banks, a query as to the proportion their reserve bears to the liabilities. Answers to this interrogatory could readily be obtained and would develope at a glance the standing and condition of every institution in its relations with the Government.

Presuming that the Comptroller's report discloses the fact that the number of defaulting banks is increasing, and that the system of National Banking is being gradually undermined by divergence from the basis of their strength, it seems highly important that the evil should at once be corrected, and the provision of protection afforded by the law rigidly enforced. Comparatively few examples have been made of banks which permitted their reserves to grow inadequate, but the most potent way to bring delinquents to a sense of duty would be, as we have before suggested, full publicity of their affairs, and especially affording a clear knowledge of their adequacy or inadequacy of reserves. Public faith in the different institutions would then be held just in proportion to their own showing of stability, and it would become an object with them to increase rather than decrease their reserves.

STATE CONVENTION.

THE REPUBLICANS of Lancaster county have appointed J. A. Heistand and R. J. Houston, delegates to the National Convention, and J. M. Dunlap, John E. Wiley, Jacob G. Peters, Wm. M. Wiley, M. H. Shirk and Joseph C. Stubbs, delegates to the State Convention. The National delegates are instructed for Gen. Grant.

The Republicans of Bedford county have instructed their delegates to the State Convention to vote for Grant and Stanton for President and Vice President.

The Republicans of Mercer county last week elected delegates to the State Convention and instructed in favor of GRANT for President, and CURTIN for Vice President.

The Republican Central Committee of Venango county met at Franklin on Monday to select a delegate to the State Convention, and also elect conferees to represent the Senatorial and Congressional Districts in Conventions for choosing delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Hon. R. S. McCormick, of Franklin, was chosen to the State Convention. The Congressional Conferees are Hon. M. C. Beebe, of Pleasantville, and F. W. Mitchell, Esq., of Franklin. The Senatorial Conferees are Messrs. E. E. Clapp, of President, and J. R. Campbell, of Oil city. The delegates were not instructed.

A LETTER FROM A BRAVE SOLDIER.

EDITORS GAZETTE: The organ of the unterrified in this section has suddenly taken a violent interest in the imposition practiced upon pensioned soldiers, by paying them the depreciated legal tenders of the country. As we always considered the Post and the leaders of the party it represented as diametrically opposed to any measure which was of real benefit to us, or the cause we became pensioners to sustain, we naturally look with suspicion upon any of its theories professing any connection with our interests. Analyzing the proposed scheme of redeeming the United States bonds with greenbacks, because the poor disabled soldier is paid his pension with currency, we find that their tears and sympathies are all of the crocodile order, and used only for effect. However, they are in perfect keeping with their professions of friendship during the war.

Our pensions are small enough, and go but a little way in keeping the "haversack" filled; but satisfied that it is as liberal as our country can afford to give, we rest content. But suppose we assist the party to power which would grind out over two billion dollars of greenbacks, how far then would our semi-annual stipend go towards filling our market baskets? At the commencement of the present session of Congress the House showed a disposition to inflate the currency, and immediately gold commenced to rise. The Senate put its foot down apparently quite firmly, saying "no inflation," when gold came down at once, and the prices of many necessaries of life with it. Lately the inflation project has gained some friends among the Republicans. Senator Sherman brought up a bill to compel holders of six per cents. to take five per cents. in their stead, or else, take principal and interest in greenbacks. A bill was introduced in the House providing for the manufacture and issue of one hundred and forty million dollars of legal tenders, and gold went up with a jump to 1.48. We all know that the price of gold governs the price of every article which the poor man requires. Now, suppose we were to issue sufficient greenbacks to redeem the bonds, or inflate the currency, can any one surmise where the price of gold, and necessary commodities, would stop in the upward flight? How much marketing would my pension procure me? These crocodile secessionists know very well that they could then have another stinging weapon with which to chuckle over "Lincoln's minions," when their stipend of "Yankee money," in many cases the only support of the disabled veteran, is utterly worthless. Then indeed can they put us on equality with the poor unfortunate Southerner, who was misled in his desperate attempt to destroy his country, because, forsooth, the Democrats could not always hold the purse strings. If they deny having sinister intentions toward the soldiers, after they have used our votes, I will refer many of my companions in arms to expressions made to them since their return. Have they not been told that they got nothing but their deserts? And they had no business to go into the army? And again; have you ever received this cold comfort from any Republican? The writer has received such sympathies, but never in any instance was the comforter identified with the party which sustained us in every substantial manner during the war. I do not mean to assert that all Democrats are Secessionists, or that all Republicans are at heart good Union men; but I do assert that I never yet knew a Republican who was either in the Rebel army, or a Secessionist who was not a Democrat. This greenback business I believe is only a part of the programme of Democrats and Secessionists alike—to destroy the credit of the country and bring odium upon every act of the soldiers and the Republican Administration. The grand object of the Northern Copperheads is to regain power. The object of the southern wing of their party is ultimate dissolution of the Union—what they failed in in the late war, but what they hope and pray for yet. These people are hard up for some clap-trap cry to catch the votes of the ignorant and unthinking. Very few of them are as honest as "Brick Pomeroy," but attempt to attain their ends by concealing the object—a la Johnson with Grant. Taxes, no matter how light, are always objectionable to the tax payers, and now, when the burdens of the people are made onerous in consequence of the misdeeds of the Democratic party, blindly led by the Southern slaveholders, they are raising a noise about taxes, trying to delude the ignorant into assisting them back to power. But I opine that they will not find the right kind of material among the United States Volunteers. The soldiers happen to know who is chargeable with the rebellion and its attendant horrors, notwithstanding their shrieks about New England Puritanism and Republican Radicalism. We have yet to learn of any good either the soldiers or the country have gained from their "high toned chivalry" or secession Democracy. They may succeed in hoodwinking many ignorant and unthinking, who can ill afford to pay either taxes or honest debts; but if the time should come that this synonym for corruption attains power, and the country is flooded with paper currency, then we will be all in the same boat. A week's wages or a month's pension will be required to pay for a pound of butter. No, no; these apologists of Secession cannot naturally have any kind feelings for us, who were disabled when putting down secession, and we want "none of them." But all of this has been said without taking into consideration the credit of our country in any manner. It is purely the reasoning of a man dependent upon an army pension and a monthly salary. I have no bonds, and but few greenbacks; but there is not a doubt in my mind but that this country is perfectly able to pay every indebtedness in compliance with her engagements. But one thing is certain. If the Democrats can make the whole debt appear odious and oppressive by howling, they will do it. They would undo Gettysburg and Vicksburg if they could and their strongest reason for doing so would be, that those victories were gained under an administration that was not democratic. Why financiers talk of paying the debt in any manner at present, is a mystery to me. I have been reading and listening very attentively to all schemes, and although I am not anything of a financier, it appears to me that by trying to avoid simplicity, they miss the whole thing. The West and South want more currency. Well, let Congress first provide for the collection of sufficient revenue to run the ordinary expenses of the Government, economically administered (which can be done only when we get Andy Johnson out of the way,) pay the interest on our debt, and establish a sinking fund. Then prohibit the Secretary of the Treasury from selling our gold until we have accumulated as much of a gold basis as sound bankers keep on hand when paying specie; i. e.: one dollar in gold for every three we have issued of paper, and when he has that amount on hand allow him to resume specie payment for legal tenders. Then pass a free national banking law, allowing any person or company, which can deposit with the Treasury Department $100,000 worth of government or other securities, as a guarantee for the payment of their notes, to issue 70 or 80 per cent. in National Bank currency.

The first will permit industry to move easily until the Southern States are represented and able to pay a share of the debt; until our valuation North has considerably increased, and until we have recovered our breath after the tug of war. The second will bring us back in the course of two and a half or three years to specie payment, and then it will not matter to us in what medium we pay the balance, for our paper will be "just as good as gold." The third will give the West and South all the paper they desire to do business with, and, it will stop the cry of inflation for business purposes, and will be a secured currency better than ever we had before the war. Of course, this will not be a complete antidote for all the ills of our immense debt, for those who want to find fault will still do so, and we can depend upon the Democratic party always wanting to, so long as they are out of power, and that is quite likely to be a long time.

A PENSIONER.

—In Paris, the proposal is seriously made, on account of the great adulteration of the milk sold there, to establish a cow-house from which the animals shall be driven each morning to the different houses, and that milk maids shall milk them in the presence of the customers. This recalls to the mind of the French journalist who tells the story, an anecdote of Scribe, the poet. He had hired a house in the country to pass the summer. As soon as he was fairly installed in it he went in search of a farmer who had a milch cow. Having found one he tated his want. "My good man, my servant will come every morning to buy a pint of milk." "Very well, it is eight sous." "But I want pure milk, very pure." "In that case it is ten sous." "You will milk in the presence of my servant." "Oh! then it is fifteen sous."

—Heavily loaded wagons are now drawn over common roads in France by means of steam road locomotives adapted to the purpose.

A VERY LARGE AMOUNT
OF THE MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS is often required by the friends of the confirmed Dyspeptic, to enable them to put up with the seeming ill-temper, the fretty notions and the gloomy forebodings and imaginations of his mind. No class of sufferers deserve more truly the patience and sympathy of these friends who often see with grief the best and sweetest dispositions altered and soured into the most morose and disagreeable by the ravages of Dyspepsia. While under its despotic sway life seems to them but a constant change of suffering and gloom, with naught but pain and gloom in the future. Those afflicted with Liver Complaint, Derangements of Digestive Organs resulting in Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, should at once resort to proper remedies, which will, if used promptly, avoid untold suffering and save many valuable lives. Pre-eminent as such, and endorsed by hundreds who have tested them, stand

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS.

In the incipient stages of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, &c., they act promptly, surely and pleasantly, cleansing, renovating and reinvigorating the system, making instead of a burden. In many old and confirmed cases they have effected remarkable and speedy cures. These pills can be obtained from all Druggists in the country. Plain or sugar coated, as purchasers may prefer.

LIFE A JOY AND PLEASURE,

Price, 25 Cents Per Box.

BEAR IN MIND
When disease has undermined the health, and the physical system has become prostrated, a stimulant that will not only strengthen, but remove the cause, should be immediately resorted to. Mental distress is also a fruitful source of the breaking down of the constitution, and the ravages of this enemy to health are truly alarming. For all such maladies HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have been found unsurpassed. By acting directly upon the digestive organs, they remove the heavy, disagreeable feeling [illegible] persons of a delicate temperament. As soon as direction is restored, the patient finds his strength increasing and his general health improved. Thousands of persons certify that it may be relied on in all cases of weakness or nervous debility attendant upon sedentary habits. The generality of Bitters are so disagreeable to the taste that they are objectionable to a weak stomach. This is not the case with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which will be found mild and extremely pleasant. Balsamic plants, barks and roots contribute their restorative juices to render it soothing and strengthening. This is the only pure stimulant which has ever been produced containing no fusil oil or any other deleterious element. The most careful and skilful chemists have analyzed the Bitters and pronounce them harmless. This is scientific testimony; but the testimony of the hundreds of thousands who have experienced the preventive and curative effects of the great vegetable tonic and restorative of modern times is still more conclusive. In Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Nervous Complaints and general debility it is as nearly infallible as anything in this fallible world can be.

Chronic Diseases.
The functions of the human body give way, usually one at a time. A disordered liver, or a slight irritation of the bronchial tubes, an obstruction in the skin or of the renal organs, are sure to be followed by pains and aches in various parts, according to the extent of the organic or functional injury. A man afflicted with dyspepsia will soon find more than the stomach at fault. The food that he swallows fails to renew the natural wear and waste, the worn out matter is deposited in some nook or cranney, where it causes irritation or pain, when it ought to be thrown off and carried out of the system. Hundreds and thousands of just such sufferers have been relieved and restored to health and vigor by a few bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which not only imparts tone to the stomach and digestive organs, but likewise enriches the blood with the elementary principles needful to the restoration of the vital energy of the system. Be careful when you ask for it to get DR. KEYSER'S, for that is the kind, and the only kind, that has cured the numberless cases of disordered and broken constitutions. It was that which cured Mr. Boyd. It was that which cured John Titzell. It was that which cured Margaret McFarland. It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher which cured all the old chronic cases which we have published from time to time in these columns. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher has cured more cases of chronic diseases than any medicine of recent origin. Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at the Doctor's great medicine store, No. 140 WOOD STREET.

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors, are made dangerous by being overheated, and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

PITTSBURGH.

BY GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND.

In the cleft of thy great left hand,
  Mississippi! reached out to the deep—
Swart, and sweaty, and tanned,
  And clasping the mountain steep—
This city, a wedding ring,
  With God in its thunders for priest,
Thou givest the first of thy brides
  And mother of cities, the East!

'Tis a bastion no more but in story,
  A trophy no more but a dower;
They have vanished, the scars of its glory,
  In the visible frown of its power.
The bloodstone, red-veined by the martyrs,
  When Braddock went down to Beaujeu,
Is black as the jet of its caverns,
  That scorches the stars of its blue.

The mighty arena of ridges
  Looks down at the sacrament rites;
Down the wizard perspective of bridges
  Leap red the hymenial lights.
From the gulfs of the globe and the fountains
  Swim the monsters of steam to be guests
And sliding the slopes of the mountains
  The giants bring gifts o'er the crests.

Aroused by the axe from its slumber,
  The great Apalachian spine
Shakes down to the rivers its lumber,
  And belches the fire from the mine.
The rains, lifting up the long rivers,
  Bear heartily onward the spoil;
The iron that melts for the dancing,
  Smooth-kissed by the bountiful oil.

The dance, it is never to finish;
  The dancers are never to tire,
So long as there's pulse in the water,
  Or soul in the glow of the fire;
The tune, it is more than a measure;
  The dance, does it naught but amuse
The feet that slip deftly to pleasure,
  Slip also to generous use.

They fashion the broad axe edges
  That shall fiddle the forests to light,
And the billion tingling rivets
  That shall bind the rooftree tight;
To the quickstep of their forges,
  Spins into highways the ore,
And its great black cannon's salvo,
  Like a roused nation's roar.

So, with this grimy mosaic,
  Volcanite, lava and steel,
No stake of contending empires,
  But carved with our eagle-seal.
The great West weds the ocean
  In a union never to tire,
Till the heavens and the earth like a parchment,
  Roll together with fervent fire!

—Mr. Tennyson has become a regular contributor to the periodical press, writing three poems a month for as many different magazines.

—The dispossessed Italian princes met recently at the house of the ex-King of Naples in Rome and proceeded to concoct a common policy.

—A Chinaman was executed in Havana on the 7th inst. He had previously been convicted of the murder of a policeman, and this was the result.

—New Russian regulations permit but two war vessels of a foreign power to remain in a Russian port at one time, and to remain but two weeks.

—Lord Stanley is spoken of as the probable successor of his paternal relative Lord Derby in the duties and emoluments of Premier of England.

—Gen. Marquez is about to publish in Havana a pamphlet, the object of which will be to justify his conduct during the imperial sway, and to prove that he was loyal to Maximilian.

—Cholera has again appeared in Cuba From the 1st to the 4th inst. there were fifteen cases in Havana, all of which proved fatal. In the Cabanas district it is raging with unusual violence.

—On February 5th the Emperor and Empress of Austria were received with loyal enthusiasm by the people of Pesth, who voluntarily illuminated their houses. The policy of Von Beust is telling well.

—Dean Stanley's new book on Westminister Abbey has recently appeared in London. The book is of course good, but is not large enough. Dean Milman is engaged on a book about his cathedral—St. Paul's.

—General Lersundi has been making a tour of the tobacco districts of Cuba and has met with an enthusiastic reception from the people. He will shortly visit the principal cities of the eastern part of the island.

—Japan is having another revolution, on account of the opening of the ports of that country to the world. Japan bids fair to fall into the ranks with China and South America where revolution is the natural state of affairs.

—Some one thinks it would be a good idea to keep a huge fire going on Mont Blanc all the time, and by melting the snow to furnish water enough to supply through pipes the cities of Savoy, Southern France and Italy with drink.

—The two young Murats, Princes of blood which is not very blue as yet, are said to be the greatest scapegraces in France, and to be bent on inextricably compromising themselves if possible, in in spite of the almost fatherly kindness of the Emperor.

—Mr. Erdan, the Italian correspondent of the Paris Temps, says that people make a grand error when they suppose that Victor Emanuel is lacking in ability; and that they will very soon have an opportunity of finding out how grievously they have misjudged him.

—There is a lady in Paris who during her daily walks in the gardens of the Tuilleries is constantly surrounded by swarms of various kinds of small birds, who perch on her person, eat from her mouth, and nestle in her hand. The cause of the attraction is unknown.

—The sudden coldness of Napoleon to the Pope is accounted for in the fact that thousands of young legitimists and other political enemies of the empire are drilling and learning the art of war in the Pope's guard, which they significantly call the new army of Conde.

—The old Archduchess Sophia, who used to be called the most ambitious woman in Europe, has completely broken down since the death of her favorite son, the Emperor Maximilian. It was principally owing to her diplomacy that Ferdinand abdicated the throne of Austria in favor of her son, the present Emperor.

—The recent riots in Prague arose in the following manner: Herr von Herbst, one of the new Cabinet, was in that city on a visit; some of the German students serenaded him. The Tzschechs, or Bohemians, were indignant and collected around the hotel of the minister, when the riots, which gave the authorities so much trouble, began.

—The melancholy news of the death, by drowning, of Admiral Bell, while trying to cross the bar at the mouth of Osacka, (Japan) harbor, will be received with sadness by all who knew or knew of that gallant officer. He was buried near the mouth of Osacka River, and Lieutenant Reed, who lost his life at the same time, shares his grave.

—The Eastern Indies, jealous probably of the sensation caused by the reported engulphing of Tortola in the West Indies, have gotten up a horror which surpasses even the worst romance about that new possession. Fortunately those horrible stories are generally, like personal items, denied soon after they make their appearance. We cannot undertake however, to deny that 30,000 lives were destroyed by a recent earthquake in the island of Formosa, but we hope that it is not true.

—King John, of Saxony, is going to abdicate. The loss of several of his children, the rather disolute conduct of his eldest son, and the political degradation which his country has suffered, have all worked severely on him. But the death, last summer, of his favorite daughter, the lovely Duchess Sophie, in Bavaria, capped the pyramid of his bereavements, and he is now subject to most distressing spells of melancholy. His son Albert will be a poor successor to him.

THE

Central Pacific Railroad

The best and principal portion of the

NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

Is being rapidly carried forward by an unprecedented working force; and it is reasonably certain that the CONTINUOUS OVERLAND RAILROAD CONNECTION FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO WILL BE MADE IN 1870.

The United States Government furnishes, upon a subordinate and contingent lien, half the means for constructing the Main Stem Line; and besides an absolute grant of 12,800 acres of valuable public lands per mile, the Central Pacific Railroad Company have received from California sources, donations and concessions worth more than $3,000,000. The available resources of this Company are therefore abundant for the purpose, amounting to $77,000,000 on the first 726 miles of the Line, including Loans secured by a First Mortgage upon the whole property, to the same amount only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds.

The results already attained, although under comparatively unfavorable circumstances, afford substantial ground for believing the CENTRAL PACIFIC to be the Most Favored, Productive and Valuable Railroad Enterprise in the Country.

In consequence of the large and rapidly increasing demand, the price of these Bonds has been advanced, and the Company are now offering for sale a limited amount of their

First Mortgage Six Per Cent. Bonds,

Principal and interest payable IN GOLD COIN, in sums of $1,000 each, at par and accrued interest from January 1st, in currency.

These Bonds, it is believed, possess the elements of safety, reliability and profit, in a greater degree, than any other class of Corporate Securities now offered, and are therefore very desirable for steady investments of surplus capital. Investors will bear in mind the following advantages:

I. They are the first mortgage on one of the most valuable and productive lines of railroad in the world.

II. The actual earnings from local business in 1867 were more than four times the annual interest engagements.

III. The hard part of the road is now done, and the prospects of rapid completion are favorable.

IV. The Company have liberal subsidies, which enable them to prosecute the work with great vigor.

V. The management has been exceedingly prudent and frugal.

VI. There is already a large and growing settlement on the completed and graded line.

VII. The lands promise to be of immense value, 27,038 acres having been already sold.

VIII. Both principal and interest are explicitly made payable in gold coin.

IX. Both the aggregate amount of issue and their standing in Europe will insure for them continued activity and a high rank among standard securities.

At this time they yield nearly

Nine per cent. upon the Investment.

Holders of Government Securities have an opportunity of exchanging them for Central Pacific Bonds, bearing an equal rate of interest, with the principal abundantly secured, and of realizing a profit of ten to fifteen per cent. in addition.

Orders sent with the funds through responsible Banks or Express Companies will receive prompt attention. Bonds sent by return Express, to any address in the United States, at our cost. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, Maps, &c., furnished on application at the office of the Railroad Company,

ORPHANS' COURT SALE.

Splendid Mansion and Grounds.

On TUESDAY, February 25th, 1868, at 1 o'clock P. M., will be sold at auction, by order of Orphans' Court, an outlot on the eastern border of the Borough of Beaver, containing about TEN ACRES. About one-half is a beautiful grove, the residue well improved and planted with apple and peach trees, and a variety of small fruits and shrubbery. The improvements comprise a fine two story BRICK MANSION HOUSE, with four rooms on each floor, exclusive of kitchen, wash house and coal house. A good well and cistern and large barn.

The location is one of the most picturesque and beautiful in Beaver county, commanding a fine view of the Ohio and Beaver rivers and of the several villages that cluster near their confluence. It is also extremely eligible with reference to Schools, Churches, Railroad Stations, &c. Probably no place now in the market combines so many conveniences and attractions suited to a gentleman that desires for his residence a spot at the same time secluded from the noise and din of business and quickly and easily accessible from Pittsburgh. This property was the homestead of Charles Stone, Esq., late of Beaver. Terms, which will be easy, made known at time of sale.

Persons visiting this Estate will be attended to and all questions answered by Capt. D. STONE, Executor of the estate of Charles Stone, residing on adjoining lot. ja21:k52

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Opera House was filled to its utmost capacity last night to see the "Black Crook." The success which has attended the production of this spectacle is without a parallel, not only in Pittsburgh, but wherever it has been put upon the stage in a proper manner. The manager, Mr. Canning, has been quite fortunate in the selection of the ballet, as it is far superior to any former one appearing in the city. This is positively the last week for the piece on the Pittsburgh stage, consequently there will be but four more entertainments. Those desiring seats should secure them early, as the house is always crowded.

MASONIC HALL.—Logrenia, the royal conjurer, with his famous troupe of trained birds, mice and Russian cats, was greeted with an immense audience last night, and gave general satisfaction. The extensive and complete manner in which he was advertized by his advance agent, Mr. Harry M. Tyndall, prepared us to see largeaudiences at Logrenia's entertainments, but the vast crowd nightly in attendance proves that the conjurer is the best card himself. To-night the performance will be changed, and elegant gifts will be distributed among the audience.

Lady readers will remember that the entire stock of trimmings, embroideries, lace goods, hosiery and millinery goods at the extensive wholesale and retail trimming and notion house of Joseph Horne & Co., Nos. 77 and 79 Market street, is offered at specially reduced rates, much cheaper than the same line of goods have been held for many years past in this city. The stock is fresh and inviting, having been purchased during the recent temporary panic in the Eastern markets.

On Trial.—The case of Tom Whittaker, indicted for robbing Miss Nancy Sproull, was taken up in the Washington county Court yesterday morning. W. C. Moreland, Esq., appears as private counsel for the prosecution, and R. M. Gibson and Mr. Morrison for the defendant. The case of "Snibs" Arnold, indicted for the murder of David Sproull, will be taken up at the conclusion of the above case.

Exhibition.—An exhibition of the South Common Methodist Episcopal Church will be given this and to-morrow evenings in the church. A band of music will be in attendance, and an enjoyable time may be anticipated by those who attend.

Travel on Our Railroads.

We have frequently heard complaints regarding the careless manner in which baggage is handled on some of the railroads. It seems that the baggage masters delight to toss about heavy trunks, valises and satchels in such a rough way as to test their durability in a manner never calculated upon by either the owner or maker. We were amused the other day, at one of our depots, at overhearing a portly official tell a laborer that he "need'nt be particular in handling that trunk, as it was made by Liebler, and could stand any amount of hard usage." He appeared to realize, in common with most folks of this community, that what was made by Liebler would stand a large share of rough usage. So it is. The Premium Trunk Factory, No. 104 Wood street, of which Mr. Joseph Liebler is sole proprietor, sustains high reputation everywhere. It is the only establishment which deals exclusively in trunks, traveling sacques, valises, satchels, bags, &c., in Western Pennsylvenia, and every article turned out is made of the stoutest material and in the very best style of workmanship. The proprietor is a practical business man, and has succeeded by dint of hard labor, and by the general excellence of his stock, in taking a first rank amongst the best trunk makers of the country. He manufactures to order and sells at very reasonable prices to either wholesale and retail patrons. At his ware rooms will be found a splendid assortment of magnificent Saratoga trunks, traveling trunks of all discriptions, family trunks, valises, portfolios and all goods peculiar to the line of trade. From long acquaintance with Mr. Liebler we can cheerfully recommend him to our readers as a fair dealing and honorable business gentleman, and one eminently worthy a large share of public patronage.

Committed for Thirty Days.

For some time past the citizens of Manchester and the Second ward, Allegheny, have been annoyed by a set of petty thieves, who are continually committing depredations in the localities named, by breaking into cellars and abstracting therefrom everything in the way of edibles. Forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and the persons annoyed made complaint to the Mayor, stating that a party of "vags," who made their headquarters at Barclay's brick yard, in the Fifth ward, were probably the thieves. Tuesday night a force of policemen were dispatched to the brick yards, and about twelve o'clock succeeded in capturing John Zimmerman, Alex Machesny, Wm. Dixon, Wm. Buck, John Edmunds and Wm. Cable, who, after a hearing, were committed for thirty days on a charge of vagrancy, that being the only charge established, as there was no evidence other than the circumstance of their being in the vicinity that they had committed the depredations.

Abandonment.

Mary McClelland made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging her husband, Harry McClelland, with abandonment. The prosecutrix is about fifty years of age, and she alleges that after having lived with her husband for a number of years he deserted her in August last, since when he has refused to contribute to her support, notwithstanding he has been at work all the time since at two dollars per day, and she has been dependent upon the charity of the citizens of South Pittsburgh where she resides for her support. A warrant was issued for the old deserter.

Assault and Battery.

John McKenna made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging Thomas Costello, a saloon keeper in the Fifth ward, with assault and battery. It appears that McKenna entered the saloon in a drunken condition and asked for liquor, which was properly refused him. The landlord did not stop there, as he should have done, but ordered McKenna to leave the house, an order, it is alleged, he was slow to obey, whereupon Costello knocked him down and dragged him out. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Row on Spring Alley.—Between eleven and twelve o'clock last night the screams of a woman were heard on Spring alley, in the Fifth ward, and the watchmen, when proceeding to the place, found Sarah McKenna covered with blood from a severe wound on her forehead. She stated that her husband, James McKenna, came into the house drunk and without the slightest provocation threw a glass at her, which inflicted the wound referred to. James, after some difficulty, was arrested and taken to the watch house, where he was locked up for a hearing.

Intellectual Treat.—Dr. A. O'Leary, a lecturer of no uncommon merit and ability, will deliver a free lecture at Lafayette Hall on Monday evening next, on "Physiology, or the laws of life, health and beauty." The learned gentleman will illustrate what he has to say on this all important subject, with a collection of costly paintings, engravings, skulls and elaborately prepared manikins. We can safely promise a rare intellectual treat to all who may attend. There will be no collection taken up. The front seats will be reserved for the ladies.

Nearly Completed.—Workmen are now busily engaged in finishing up the beautiful new salesroom of Reineman, Meyran & Seidle, Fifth street, but preparatory to taking possession, that enterprising firm offer superior inducements to their patrons in the way of jewelry, watches, clocks, silver and plated ware, mantel ornaments, stationery, &c, at their old stand, No. 29 Fifth street. Persons in need of any thing in this line will do well to call at once.

A Waste of Time.—Mayor Blackmore has recently received a number of anonymous letters requesting him to give his attention to various matters. This is only a waste of time and paper, as the Mayor will not pay the slightest attention to complaints made in this way. Parties having any complaints to make are requested to call upon him in office hours, when they will receive all the attention the necessities of the case demands.

Masquerade.—This evening a grand masquerade will be held at the Rink, on which occasion Callie Curtis, the magnificent, will appear on skates and in costume. The big trained elephant Hannibal will also perform on the ice. In order to prepare a good sheet of ice for the evening, the Rink will remain closed to-day. Let all attend who can enjoy the fun of a masquerade or the pleasure of skating.

Surety of the Peace.—Rose Leonard made information before Alderman Thomas, charging Catharine Carney with surety of the peace. It is alleged by the prosecutrix that the defendant has at various times threatened to knock her eyes out. A warrant was issued and the defendant arrested and held to bail for a further hearing.

Correction.—In yesterday's GAZETTE we stated that officer Shaffer made information against Joseph Yeager, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, for keeping a gambling house. This was wrong. Leopold Fedder was the informant and Mr. Shafer, as was his duty, merely made the arrest.

The Grand Charity Ball held at Lafayette Hall evening before last was a perfect success. There were some six hundred persons in attendance, and every thing passed off pleasantly. The managers deserve great credit for the manner in which the affair was conducted.

Larceny.—Cyrus Moon yesterday made information before Mayor Blackmore charging Jacob Fry with larceny. It was alleged by the prosecutor that the defendant took from him a quantity of bed clothing. After a hearing the defendant was discharged on payment of costs.

Affiliation.—Catharine R. Bart yesterday made information before Alderman Taylor, charging John McKemble with affiliation. The parties reside in the Fifth ward. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Discharged.—L. M. Soper, arrested on an information made before his Honor Mayor Blackmore, yesterday, by Jacob Arnson, for surety of the peace, was, after a hearing, discharged on payment of costs.

It was Toerge's brass band in attendance at the Petroleum Banquet on Tuesday afternoon, instead of the Great Western, as reported in our columns.

George Alfred Townsend has our thanks for an advance proof of his poem on Pittsburgh, which will be found on our third page to-day.

Country Merchants will find at Barker's a full stock at much less than eastern prices.

Gold is decidedly lower, opening at 140⅝, and closing dull at 140⅜. The advance in cotton in England, and consequently, the low rate of exchange are favorable to a further decline; no less important is the fact that the government now holds over eighty millions of its own gold in the Treasury with no immediate payments but the four and a half millions of interest due March first. The May interest is likely to come into the Treasury by payments of duty during that time.

Bonds are dull and lower this afternoon, in sympathy with the decline of gold. It seems as if governments had reached the highest point, and were on the decline.

Stocks are dull and lower throughout the entire list.

Money is easy, because there is little demand for it at present, but with the beginning of the coming month a tight money market and high rates are expected.

Closing New York quotations, received by Ph. R. Mertz, are as follows:

Gold, 140⅜; 1881's, 111¾; 5-20s, 1862, 111¼; 1864, 108¾; 1865, 109⅛; Consols, 107¾; 10-40s, 105¼; 7-30s, 107¼.

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Tuesday, says: The money market rules very quiet at about 3 to 5 per cent. for loans on approved collaterals. The banks continue to discount all the good paper offering, which leaves little for the bill brokers, with whom the rate is 7 to 8 per cent. on miscellaneous collateral. The last New York bank statement points to a tightening of money as probable. The banks lose in the present return about two millions in their lawful money strength. The general deposit line also shows a falling off to the extent of about a million of dollars. The line of loans and discounts steady. The pause in the accumulation of deposits and greenbacks is not yet felt on the money market, though the improvement in general trade, and especially in the price and movement of cotton, may possibly soon lead to the better employment of balances to the extent of re-establishing the rates at 6 to 7 per cent. The further marked increase of activity in mercantile circles during the week past was sensibly appreciated by the domestic commission houses and by the dry goods jobbers.

—In 1867 twenty-one Chicago firm did a business of over $2,000,000 each, and seventy-six exceeded $1,000,000 within the year; while one hundred and seventy-six make returns surpassing $500,000. Fifty-nine firm did business in 1866 to the extent of $1,000,000 and over, and 14 exceeded $2,000,000. The highest return was that of a firm whose sales were reported at $9,220,967.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, February 19, 1868. }

CRUDE—As noted yesterday, the market is firmer, and as the stock is light and the offerings limited, holders generally, are asking an advance, for present as well as future delivery. We can report a sale of 2000 bbls, on spot, at 7¼, to be measured in bulk cars, and cash at that—7½c is the asking price. March, buyer's option, may be quoted at 7½c offered, and 8c asked, and April at 8@8½c. This advance is predicated on the advance in refined, and while as yet there are but few buyers at any advance, holders appear to be indifferent about selling, as they entertain the belief that still higher figures are more likely to prevail before there is any reduction.

REFINED—There is an improved demand for bonded oil, and the market is firmer and a shade higher. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls for the first half of March, seller's option, at 23¾c; 2000 for first half of April, buyer's option, at 24c; 500 for first half of April, seller's option, at 24c, and 1500 for all 1868, buyer's option, to be delivered during the first half of any month in the year the buyer may name, on private terms. From the above, it will be seen that both March and April are half a cent better, and, we presume, that this advance will hold good for any delivery during the year. Our refiners feel very grateful for even this small improvement, though they are by no means satisfied yet, and the great proportion of them refuse to sell, preferring rather to hold back and take the chances. Compared with other commodities, oil is certainly the cheapest article in market, not even excepting Cotton Goods; it is not worth any more to-day than it was several years ago when gold was at par, and notwithstanding the production is large, it should also be borne in mind that the consumption also is increasing, and while it is not at all probable that it will command the extreme prices which prevailed during the excitement of 1864 and '65, there is no good reason why it should not and will not command better prices than those now current, and that, too, before long.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil by the Allegheny Valley Railroad during yesterday and to-day, were as follows:

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, February 19.—The new firm of Wicks, Vanalstyne & Co., it seems, are perfectly solvent, although they have allowed a note given by the old firm of Wicks, Julliard & Co, to go to protest. One or two retail carpet houses have become financially involved also, but matters of this kind fail to attract much notice. As the present cotton goods market continues excited in view of the rise in cotton and the scarcity of goods, the tendency of prices is still strongly upward, for Printing Cloths, Calicoes and Brown Muslins particularly. There is a positive scarcity of heavy Brown Sheetings, and leading houses in the trade haven't had a bale on sale for days and weeks. Atlantic A. would sell quick at 18½c; will go to 20c ere long. Pacific and Appleton A. find anxious buyers at 18c; Lyman C., 16½c; Stark A., 17½c; Ohio, 10½c; Naumkeag Sheetings, 12½c; Slaterville A. ¾, 11½c; Great Falls O., 16½c; Pepperell P., 16½c; Quinnebaug, 9 8, 20c; Laconia brown do, Illinois, 17½c. Prints are very active, at 14c for Sprague, Pacific, Dunnells, Hamilton, &c.; 14@14½c for Cocheco; 15½c for Merrimack W. fancy; 16c for frocks; 13½c for Oriental; 12c for Waukegan; 12½c for old styles. Manchester agents prices are now 11½c for Freemans; 11c for Arnolds, and 13c for Amoskeag. To-morrow Spragues are likely to advance ½c with other makes. There was a large sale of imported goods to-day by auction at low prices. All imported and domestic woolens are selling at unprofitable rates, but there is a better demand and prices are likely to advance.

Provisions very firm and holders are generally asking higher prices. Mess pork advanced to $23,50, but there was none to be had below $24 at the close. Bulk meats were held firmly at 9½c, 11½c and 12½c for shoulders; sides and clear sides, with sales of the latter at this quotation. STOCKS.

Stocks opened demoralized and weak. A large amount of the Erie were thrown on the market and fell to 74¾; and subsequently rising to 75¾. The rest of the market is heavy and lower. The Erie Directors today appointed a Committee with power to borrow any money needed. Report says $300,000 are wanted for the interest on the first of March, and $700,000 for rails for which it is said are to be used to form a connection with Chicago through the Michigan Southern and Atlantic and Great Western roads, including a third rail on the Michigan Southern. The Erie Directors have repudiated the recent legal proceedings. At the one o'clock board the market was steady, but at the second board there was a general decline of a quarter per cent. In the afternoon it was announced an injunction was granted by Judge Barnard on motion of Attorney General Champlain, suspending Mr. Drew from exercising office as Director of the Erie Company, which carried the price to 76, but an unfavorable construction was afterwards put upon the whole proceeding and Erie fell to 74⅜@74½. At the close the general market was excited under the fluctuation in Erie, and closed heavy. The Erie directors also repudiated the protest by one of the directors of Lockwood & Keep, of the Michigan Southern, to prevent them making an agreement with Erie to lay a third rail upon their road. The Pacific Mail Company determined to-day to pass the dividend.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening, with four feet in the channel; we, in common with many others, felt confident that the recent soft weather would have caused a rise of two or three feet, but thus far we have been disappointed. The weather continues mild and pleasant—thawing during the day and freezing at night.

There has been no arrivals since our last report. The importer was due here last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. The Armadillo, from Cincinnati, is due here to-morrow, and the Argosy ought to arrive here on Saturday or Sunday.

The Messenger, for St. Louis, and the Lawrence, for Nashville, departed yesterday. The Messenger stuck at "Brunot," but it was thought she would not be delayed long, though she was drawing every inch of water.

Captain Throckmorton, of St. Louis, was circulating about the landing yesterday, taking observations. It is said that he wants to buy a small boat; if he does, he will experience no difficulty in buying here, as there are quite a number in market.

The Silver Lake is being lengthened, preparatory, we presume, to making another trip to the mountains. It has become quite fashionable at St. Louis of late to lengthen boats.

The Bellevernon, Capt. J. J. Darragh, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will be ready to leave on Saturday without fail. She is an A 1 boat, and is well adapted for the Pittsburgh and St. Louis trade.

The Camelia, Captain Sam. Dean is filling up steadily for Nashville, and will be the first out for that point.

The high-headed Glendale, Capt. John H. Hare, with the veteran Capt. Jas. Mellon in the office, is up for St. Louis, and will soon be ready to take her departure.

The Memphis Avalanche, of the 15th, has the following: We yesterday had a call from Major General Negley, of Pittsburgh, who distinguished himself as the commander of a division in the Army of the Cumberland. The General is on his way North from a month's stay in Louisiana, where he has invested a large amount of capital for himself and friends. He has purchased the magnificent sugar plantation of General Dick Taylor, on what is known as the coast.

The Leonidas arrived at Cincinnati on Monday evening, and was advertised to leave for New Orleans on Tuesday. The New York was due at Cincinnati on Monday night, as was also the R. R. Hudson.

The Kate Putnam had steam up at Cairo on Monday night, preparatory to taking her departure for St. Louis.

The following is the report of Mr. John S. Devenney, Supervising Inspector for this (Seventh) District, for the past year:

For the year ending September 30, 1867, 156 steamboats of all classes, measuring 39,814 tuns, have been inspected at Pittsburgh, Pa.; 81 steamers, measuring 8,630 tuns, have been inspected at Wheeling, West Virginia, and 121 steamers, measuring 38,291 tuns, have been inspected at Cincinnati, Ohio—making an aggregate of 358 steamers, measuring 86,735 tuns, which have been inspected during the year. Of the above boats, 147 are passengers, 48 ferry, 120 towing, 15 canal, and 8 freight steamers.

The local board at Pittsburgh have issued certificates of license to 271 pilots and 255 engineers. The local board at Wheeling have issued certificates of license to 97 pilots and 106 engineers.

The Local Board at Cincinnati have issued certificates of licence to two hundred and fifty-two pilots and two hundred and fifty-one engineers—making a total of 1,242 officers who have received license during the year. The Local Board at Pittsburgh revoked the license of one engineer, suspended three, and refused two pilots. The Local Board at Wheeling revoked the license of one engineer and refused license to three, and refused license to one engineer for violation of law. The passenger steamer Pine Bluff was destroyed by fire, December 15, 1866, while lying at the mouth of Licking river; loss, $16,000. The towboat Dick Fulton No. 3, and Dolphin, were destroyed by fire on the night of April 11, 1867, while lying at Pittsburgh wharf, origin of fire unknown; loss, $70,000. The towboat Alexander Chambers collapsed a flue on her starboard boiler, April 18, 1867, while lying at dam No. 1, in the Monongahela river, scalding one fireman so badly that he died a few days after.

The cabin was burned off the towboat Petrel, August 5, 1867, while lying at the Cincinnati wharf; loss, $1,200. The steamer Mary Erwin was sunk at Rising Sun, by backing on a log, but was soon raised again; loss, $1,200. In closing my report of steam marine proceedings in the Seventh District during the year, and considering the large amount of business transacted therein, it affords satisfaction to state that but a single death occurred by explosion or other casuality. When we take into view the extent of the river coast in this district (over 1,000 miles), on which 450 steamers ply, of which 358 have been inspected therein, I doubt whether the same freedom from accident or loss can be shown by any land route of the same extent in the country. For this great safety we owe much to the all-wise and over-ruling Providence, and the improvements in steam boilers, valves and other appliances—the co-operation of skillful engineers and pilots and other officers, affording the business and traveling community an exemption from loss and accident almost without parallel.

The Memphis Bulletin, of Friday, says: The Indiana passed up in the afternoon, on her way to Louisville. The report that she was abandoned by her officers while in the critical condition at Terrapin Neck is without foundation. Capt. Cannon, with the Lee, was employed to rescue her from the perilous position. Her officers remained on board, assisted all the time. The boat was put in dock at New Orleans, and was found to have sustained little or no injury. About twenty-five passengers came to this point on the Indiana.

A St. Louis telegram under date of Monday, says: This Mississippi below St. Louis and some miles above will be open to navigation soon. There will be a large number of steamers employed this season. The steamers R. E. Lee, Magenta and others, will be run as an opposition line by parties in Cincinnati and Louisville. The Missouri River trade will be well represented, fifty new steamers being engaged for the business. The number of Missouri River steamers will therefore be larger the coming season than any year since 1856.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday, says: Business was moderately active along the levee yesterday. The Nightingale was receiving largely, and will doubtless get off for Nashville to-day. The Silver Spray is also filling up pretty fast, and departs for New Orleans this evening. The Emma No. 3 engaged considerable yesterday, including one lot of 1000 bbls pork, and nearly 200 casks bacon, and departs for New Orleans to-morrow. Parties telegraphed here for a boat to come to Evansville and take a load of corn for New Orleans at 15 per 100. The offer being too low was declined. Now that navigation has been resumed in Wabash River, considerable grain will be moving both up and down the river, the bulk having been sold for New York to make whisky.

Robert Maddox, well known in river circles, died a few days since on his farm in Indiana. His remains were sent to Maysville last Friday, on the Magnolia, for interment.

In the year 1851 the steamboat Pontiac was snagged and sunk in the river some five or six miles above Atchison, Kansas. The wreck was a bad one—and after removing the machinery, it was abandoned. A part of the cargo consisted of 400 barrels of whisky. Where the boat sunk is now a sand bar. The high price of whisky has stimulated numbers of men to search for the wreck, and it is reported that one of the seekers have found it. If the whisky should prove to be in good order the discovery will be a decidedly profitable one.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, February 19.—River falling slowly with five feet three inches in the canal by mark. Weather clear. Thermometer 52 degrees.

ST. LOUIS, February 19.—The steamer Rubicon came up to-day from Evan's Landing, and her officers believe the river is open to Cairo, but nothing definite is known yet. Two boats left to-day for the South, and there are others loading.

MEMPHIS, February 19.—The weather is clear and very warm. Freights for Ohio active. Tonnage scarce. River rising rapidly. The Bertha bursted a mud valve in the hold, damaged some freight and entered protest. In port—Minneola, Henry Ames, Bertha and Countess.

NASHVILLE, February 19.—The river is falling; four feet nine inches on Harpeth Shoals. Arrived—Emma Floyd, from Cincinnati, Nashville and Cairo. Departed—Ella Hughes, for the Upper Cumberland.
